SPECIAL 35MM SCREENING!

"It isn't the operatic physical violence that we witness happening in Possession that's so unnerving. It's the psychic violence that people inflict on each other when a union is rendered asunder — the kind that makes someone going ballistic in a subway station seem tame by comparison — that makes this movie feel so painful, and so precise in terms of pushing hard on your pressure points."

— David Fear, Rolling Stone
